Dakota County Historical Society Online Privacy Policy

DCHS is committed to maintaining your confidence and trust, and accordingly maintains the following privacy policy to protect personal information you provide online.

You may give us personal information about you, such as your name, contact email and other contact details on various places on our website. This privacy policy describes how we collect and use your personal information.

How and where we collect personal information:

Online Guestbook
Facebook (If activated for this site)
Discussion boards (If activated for this site)
Blogs (If activated for this site)
Inquiries through emails
Web Site Hit Counter

How we use your personal information:

The information you give us is absolutely safe with us. We will never sell, rent, share or disclose your personal information to any other parties.

Opt Out:

You may ask us to remove your contact information from our online guestbook, discussion boards and blogs. In order to remove the information, please email us at aleuvanbur@aol.com

Confidentiality Policy

It is the DCHS policy that personal information, such as your name, postal address, email address and telephone number, is totally private and confidential. The personal information that you provide is stored in a secure location (such as our online guestbook), and is accessible only by DCHS staff, and used only for the purpose for which you provide the information (such as to reply to your email or guestbook request).

No Release of Information to Other Parties

Personal information will not be released to any other parties except to further the reason for which you provide the information, such as requesting information from DCHS or a DCHS member. There are no other circumstances under which we will provide or sell your personal information to any other parties.

No Computer Tracking of Identifiable Information

Our computer is not configured to collect, track or distribute personal information about our visitors. It does recognize the home server of visitors, but not email addresses and other identifiable information. We can tell which ISP our visitors use, but not visitor names, visitor addresses or other visitor information that would allow us to identify the visitors to our site. This information is not used for any purpose.

Through the use of a hit counter, our website tracks information about the number of visits to our website. Our hit counter compiles statistics that show the daily number or weekly number of visitors to our site and which countries hits come from. These statistics do not contain personal information and cannot be used to gather any personal information.

Acceptance of this Privacy Policy

By signing our guestbook or sending us email inquiries, you agree to and accept the above listed terms. The Dakota County Historical Society respects an individual's right to privacy.
